

Big Story Books

Big Story Books use a very simple principle: If a child can sing it they can read it. Children who have learned to sing a song know the words to that song well. If they then track the words to the song on a chart or a storybook, they will add to the vocabulary of sight words that they recognize. A single big book can cost as much as $40! In these collections you get 13-15 stories for the same price! The Big Story Books are 11x17 with easy turn coils. These books fit perfectly on a black music stand.

Reproducible Take home story books Photocopy the story from the reproducible story book. Have a parent volunteer cut up the pages and staple them in the correct order. (They are easy to put together - no folds) The title page for each story is left blank so the child can draw a picture showing what the song makes them think of. If the children wish to, they can color the pictures in the book. Sing the song as a class, sing or read with the Big Storybook, and then have the children track the words in their own storybook. These collections contain the same stories as the Big Storybook chant books. Read the story from the Big Story Book in your classroom. Give the children individual little books to read along or to take home and practice with their parents.
